

Alsip Hired Wilderness Restoration

The Village of Alsip Board hired Wilderness Restoration who is a nonprofit organization whose sole purpose is to clean all forms of land and water pollution and litter throughout the entire state of Illinois. David Birch and his team did an amazing job by cleaning up the areas of Stony Creek starting at the East side of S. Pulaski and the corner of W. 123rd St. and following the creek southeast to completion at S. Kedzie Ave.

"This is the first time Stony Creek has been cleaned to this magnitude; this administration is focused on the health and wellbeing of our community and preserving the natural landscape. The Village board were surprised to see items David's team pulled from the creek, such as TV's, couches, refrigerators, tires and all the other garbage that filled an entire dumpster. Great job to David and his team and look forward to them helping out on other projects in the future." Mayor John Ryan
